QUALITY OF FOOD

We always use only branded and fresh raw materials and best quality for preparing the food. A team of quality control Supervisor will check all materials brought to the kitchen as well as cooking practices. We will submit two or three brands for each item and the Kitchen Management will select the brands for cooking.

We are not ISO 22000 - Food safety management certified, but we always trying to meet the all standard of ISO 22000 - Food safety management system.

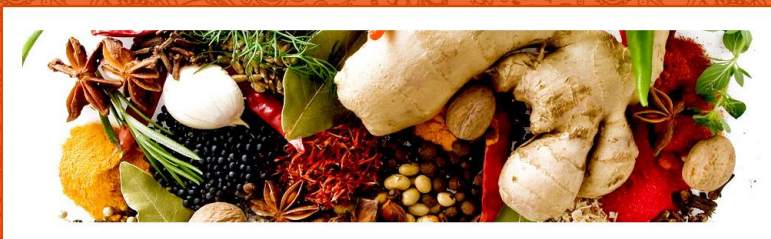

FOOD POLICY

PREMIER CATERING service's aim is to conduct its operations to ensure the highest standards of Food Safety. The goal is to ensure that every meal or dish follows local legislations and health department regulations. We control and monitor our systems and procedures within our facilities in accordance to our local Food Safety management systems.

We always ensure the hygienic workplaces, surroundings of kitchen, raw materials and equipment are provided for employees and we maintain the highest possible standards of Food Safety through employee and supervision. We also ensure continuous improvement and hygienically maintained premises by on-going monitoring and review. We have great co-operation with suppliers, customers and colleagues to ensure Food Safety standards are met through the supply chain. Since our Journey ensure that staff abides by this Policy and all procedures, Codes of practice lay down by Management.

We have a variety of equipment available to suit different locations, settings and occasion. All our events are tailored to the event and occasion. Our quotation policy is to list and charge for each item separately - so you are always in control of the cost and have the ability to change amounts or volumes as required. All products are cooked fresh on the day of your event. PREMIER CATERING does not stock, refrigerate or freeze any cooked products.
